

Bell companies operate internet services that are important to all consumers. We should have access to any provider who can provide the most competitive price and service, whether they are small or large co. At least there would be a choice and not monopolies, as there currently are with cable tv service!